

Incidence & Persistence of Autograft Harvest Site Pain in Humans

What can pets tell us about whether they experience ongoing pain from autograft harvest sites?

Because they don't respond like humans, can we assume they don't feel graft harvest site pain?

Many human surgeons choose to use allograft to avoid painful post operative morbidity in their patients.

Source: B McKay, HS Sandhu, "Use of Recombinant Human Bone Morphogenetic Proteins-2 in Spinal Fusion Applications." Spine 27, no. 16S (2002): S77.

VETERINARY TRANSPLANT SERVICES, INC.
The Bone Graft Experts